Please indicate your current approximate level of playing; please be realistic – the enjoyment of your week (and that of others) depends on it. Also see advice on specific requirements in brochure or below.

ALL PLAYERS: please give details of works you would like to play on the next sheet.

WIND PLAYERS

If there is sufficient interest, would you wish to play in a mixed wind group for an afternoon session? Music would be selected to accommodate those wishing to play, so you will be expected to play if you have indicated that you would like to do so.

I would like to play in afternoon wind group(s) if possible YES / NO

If yes, please indicate instrument you wish to play: .....

CONCERTI

If you wish to experience playing a concerto movement (with chamber orchestra only) please see further guidance below and indicate your proposed concerto:

Instrument ..... Composer and work .....

Opportunities for concertos will depend on time constraints: priority will initially be given to applicants who have not performed in recent years. The proposed concerto or movement should be no longer than 10 minutes performing time, and performers should provide all necessary parts including a score for the conductor.

VIRTUAL LIBRARY See website for details

I can offer music under the 'Virtual Library' scheme

Winchester Summer Music 2023

Terms and Conditions for Members.

- 1) Fees: Prospective members are required to make a deposit of £100 at the time of booking and to agree to pay the full balance of fees by 14th July 2023
- 2) Payment details: Cheques/Postal Orders (in British Sterling) should be made payable to 'Winchester Summer Music' and sent to: The Secretary, Winchester Summer Music, Bay Trees, 6 Durrington Hill, Worthing, W Sussex, BN13 2PX. Payments can also be made by bank transfer: Winchester Summer Music, Sort Code 60-24-31, Account No. 12728268
- 3) Insurance: Insurance against possible loss is recommended. The course deposit of £100 is non-returnable, except in the case of serious illness, at the discretion of the organisers; other fees can not normally be returned in the event of withdrawal whatever the reason.
- 4) Part time attendance: The course runs from the afternoon of Monday 21st August to the evening of Saturday 26th August 2023 (non-residents) or morning of Sunday 27th August 2023 (residents). Part time membership, of one or two sessions per day, can be arranged by negotiation but participants will be expected to attend throughout the week for each of their sessions. Please call Tel: +44 (0)7771 997473 or E-mail: secretary@winchestersummermusic.org.uk. regarding fees and arrangements.
- 5) Acceptance: applications will be considered from 1st February until 28th April 2023. While it is hoped that all applications can be accepted, it is essential to the enjoyment of all participants that satisfactory chamber groupings are achieved and therefore that the balance of instruments/standards on the course is appropriate. It may therefore be necessary to limit the acceptance of some instruments until applications for other instruments are sufficient to ensure a satisfactory balance within chamber groups. Applicants will be advised whether or not their application can be accepted by 15th May 2023. Waiting lists will be maintained where a place cannot be offered immediately.
- 6) Musical Standards: Instrumentalists must have a current playing standard equivalent to at least Associated Board Grade 5 and also be self-sufficient within a chamber music environment. It is essential that applicants are realistic about the standard they indicate, to ensure that they are placed in appropriate groups both to benefit themselves and also the other players in their sessions. Horn players should be familiar with common transpositions and clarinetists should preferably have both B flat and A instruments. All players should be familiar with the clefs used by their instruments in chamber and orchestral music.
- 7) Attendance: rewarding and enjoyable playing requires all members to attend all their coached sessions. Absence for a session or sessions is only acceptable for reasons of a genuinely unavoidable and uncontrollable nature such as illness, funerals, graduation etc. Any members needing to miss a session or sessions for genuinely urgent and uncontrollable reasons must advise the organisers immediately in order that attempts can be made to source an alternative player, or alternative music, for the affected group(s). The organisers do not, however, guarantee to be able to make good the consequences of any absences, as substitute players or alternative repertoire may not be available. Fees will not be refunded for missed sessions.
- 8) Data protection: each member's name, address, telephone number and email address (where applicable) is held on the organisers' personal computers and will specifically be used only for the purposes of organising the Winchester Summer Music course. They will not be shared with any other party. They will be retained to keep in touch with you about future courses unless you tick the box on the application form, in which case they will be deleted in October 2023. You may also request the deletion of your details at any other time by emailing secretary@winchestersummermusic.org.uk or by post to the address in paragraph 2.
- 9) Chamber group allocation: the organisers will endeavour to meet applicants' requests regarding groups, members and repertoire as far as possible, within the constraints of the available participants and the need to provide balanced programmes for all members.
- 10) Chamber group co-ordinators and pre-course liaison: when group details are sent out in late July 2023, a group co-ordinator will be named for each group. All participants must liaise promptly with their group co-ordinator regarding choice of repertoire, provision of parts and scores etc. to ensure that these are agreed and available in good time for the course. Applicants are therefore required to provide an email address or telephone number which their group colleagues can use for this purpose.
- 11) Course organiser communications: the organisers will use email for communication with applicants/course members, where appropriate, wherever email addresses are provided. Applicants/members must therefore check mail boxes regularly and also ensure that they advise the organisers of any change of email address.
